Abstract

Roll call voting records for both chambers of the United States Congress through the second session of the 104th Congress are presented in this data collection. Each data file in the collection contains information for one chamber of a single Congress. The units of analysis in each part are the individual members of Congress. Each record contains a member's voting action on every roll call vote taken during that Congress, along with variables that identify the member (e.g., name, party, state, district, uniform ICPSR member number, and most recent means of attaining office). In addition, the codebook provides descriptive information for each roll call, including the date of the vote, outcome in terms of nays and yeas, name of initiator, the relevant bill or resolution number, and a synopsis of the issue.

Summary Data Description

Time Period:	1789 - 1996
Country:	United States
Geographic Coverage:	United States
Geographic Unit:	electoral district
Unit of Analysis:	individual members of Congress
Universe:	members of the United States Congresses
Kind of Data:	roll call voting data

Notes

The full text describing the variable includes the volume of the Daily Congressional Record (DCR) from which the vote derives. For the roll call vote variables themselves (V11-V560), included are the outcome in terms of yeas and nays, the name of the initiator, and the relevant bill or resolution number with a synopsis of the issue along with the number of Republicans (R), Independents (IND), and Democrats (D), who voted for and against the rollcall in question. The Democratic vote totals are further subdivided into the number of yeas and nays of both Northern Democrats (ND) and Southern Democrats (SD). In this dataset, Southern states encompass Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia.For variables V11-V560 the label includes the date when the vote took place followed by the roll call vote number; for example, in " February 28, 1991 10017", 10017 indicates roll call vote number 0017 in the First session of the Congress, voted on February 28, 1991.

Methodology and Processing

Data Collection Methodology

Sources Statement:	Data Source:: Materials for the House from the 1st through the 75th Congresses and for the Senate from the 1st through 73rd Congresses were keypunched from the Congressional Vote Analysis Collection originally prepared by Clifford Lord under Works Progress Administration auspices. Data for the Senate from the 74th through the 78th Congresses were supplied by Richard W. Kirkendall, the University of Missouri. Data for the House from the 76th through the 78th Congresses, and for both chambers of the 79th Congress through the 101st Congresses, were prepared by ICPSR staff utilizing the DAILY CONGRESSIONAL RECORD. Data for both Chambers from the 102nd through the 104th Congresses were prepared by Congressional Quarterly, Inc.;
Cleaning Operations:	CQ prepared the 102nd Congress roll call voting records in accordance with its acknowledged high standards of quality control. Upon receipt of these data from CQ, ICPSR performed an extensive set of operations intended to check the files for accuracy and correspondence to authoritative source materials. These included checking each data file for illegal or inconsistent code values, comparison of selected vote totals and descriptions with those appearing in the annual CQ ALMANAC, and preparation of SAS and SPSS data definition statements as well as full, machine-readable documentation.

Variable Description and Frequencies

Note: Frequencies displayed for the variables are not weighted. They are purely descriptive and may not be representative of the study population. Please review any sampling or weighting information available with the study.

Summary statistics (minimum, maximum, mean, median, and standard deviation) may not be available for every variable in the codebook. Conversely, a listing of frequencies in table format may not be present for every variable in the codebook either. However, all variables in the dataset are present and display sufficient information about each variable. These decisions are made intentionally and are at the discretion of the archive producing this codebook.

Byrd, D-W.Va., amendment to the Byrd amendment, to take the $8.2 billion that the budget resolution shifted to transportation programs from other domestic programs over 5 years and divide the money into two equal accounts. One account would authorize $4.1 billion to reward states for their level of effort in highway construction and maintenance programs based on a formula that rewards states with a gas tax higher than the national average and a lower than average per capita disposable income. The other account of $4.1 billion would be divided among donor states, which pay more into the Highway Trust Fund than they receive, in a way that guarantees each more money than they now receive. Text:	DCR-137 Y=55 N=35 Bingaman (D, NM) S1367. Conditional MFN for China in 1992. Bingaman, D-N.M., amendment to add to the other findings in the bill that the U.S. has failed to use existing laws and other means to respond to China's human rights violations, weapons proliferation, and unfair trade practices. The amendment directs the president to interact more forcefully with our allies to restrict the transfer of technology to China; encourage the Missile Technology Control Regime to develop a common policy towards China's missile transfers; direct the U.S. Trade Representative to take action against China's unfair trade practices; and encourage the Human Rights Commission of the United Nations to issue a report on human rights conditions in China. In addition to the other provisions for renewal of most-favored-nation trade status the amendment would add the requirement that China has ceased unfair trade practices. Text: DCR-138 Y=50 N=44 HR4210. 1992 Tax Bill/Conference Report. Adoption of the conference report to create a 20 percent tax credit against Social Security taxes paid by middle-income families to be replaced in 1994 by a permanent $300-a-child tax credit. The credits would be paid for by increasing the current top tax rate from 31 percent to 36 percent and imposing a 10 percent surtax on millionaires. The conference report would provide other provisions designed to spur economic growth, including a progressive capital gains tax cut. Taxpayers could also deduct up to $2,000 per year contributed to individual retirement accounts; qualified taxpayers could make penalty-free withdrawals for first-time home purchases or for medical or educational expenses. Adopted 50-44: R 0-41; D 50-3 (ND 36-0, SD 14-3), March 20, 1992. A "nay" was a vote in support of the president's position. p. ?

Motion agreed to 63-32: R 40-0; D 23-32 (ND 12-26, SD 11-6), April 9, 1992. (Sixty votes are required to waive a point of order. Subsequently, the chair overruled the Sasser point of order, and the Nickles amendment was adopted by voice vote.) p. ?

Text:	DCR-138 Y=67 N=22 HR11. Tax Bill/Conference Report. Adoption of the $27 billion conference report on the tax bill, including tax benefits for 25 inner-city and 25 rural-area enterprise zones; a restoration of tax breaks for individual retirement accounts (IRAs); penalty-free withdrawals from IRAs; a 12-month extension of a dozen expiring tax breaks, allowing the writeoff of intangible assets, including good will, over 14 years; passive loss deductions by real estate developers; new rules allowing real estate investment by pension funds; the repeal of luxury taxes; the permanent extension of the low-income housing and targeted jobs tax credits; the creation of a new child welfare capped entitlement; and provisions for other purposes. The bill would increase taxes on securities firms and owners of commercial real estate, increasing estimated taxes for individuals and corporations, capping deductions for business-related moving expenses, and limiting tax benefits to owners of failed thrifts and through other measures. Adopted (thus clearing the bill for the president) 67-22: R 23-14; D 44-8 (ND 31-6, SD 13-2), Oct. 8, 1992. p. ?
